

PROSOCO

We made it first. We make it last.

The first-ever building restoration cleaning in the United States happened in 1956, when PROSOCO devised a technique for cleaning the delicate terra cotta surface of the Mountain States Telephone Building in Denver, Colo.

Helping buildings withstand the test of time is in our DNA and in our products — used on some of the most recognized buildings across the United States. It is the foundation of our company, and the purpose of our future.
